Mississippi Power seeking Coast Electric rate hike

Mississippi Power Company has asked the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission in Washington to approve a 5.6 percent increase in wholesale rates for electricity sold to three electric power associations in southeast Mississippi.

Alan Barton, president of the Gulfport-based utility, said the new wholesale rates, filed with FERC

Wednesday, are designed to increase Mississippi Power Company's revenues, by $2.9 million annually. The company is asking that the rates go into effect Feb. 14.

Mississippi Power Company provides wholesale electric service to Coast Electric Power Association of Bay St. Louis, Singing River Electric Power Association of Lucedale, and East

Mississippi Electric Power Association of Meridian.

Barton emphasized that the wholesale rate request before FERC does not affect Mississippi Power Company's residential, industrial or commercial customers nor does it affect rate cases now before the state Supreme Court or the Hinds County

Kergosien Sawmill history told

Fenton sawdust firing paper company boilers

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Crews operating heavy equipment are completing a more than two-year project in which two mammoth Fenton Community sawdust piles are being moved to fire factory boilers.

Pitts Construction Co. of Waynesboro has been moving tractor-trailer rig loads of sawdust daily from the site of the former Kergosien Sawmill at the confluence of Bayou LeTerre and Rotten Bayou—the original location of Fen-

The two piles are located on property owned by Dr. Richard Walle of New Orleans.

Clara Kergosien of Bay St. Louis reports her late grandfather, Adolf Kergosien, owned the mill which began operation just after he moved here from Brittany, France in 1859 and married Elodie Mauffray of the community.

He (Adolf Kergosien) came to the United States on a trade boat and sailed on schooners from New Orleans to Fenton where he met my grandmother," Kergosien explains.

The schooners were utilized to transport supplies to and lumber from sawmills which dotted Hancock County.

At that time, local companies were vigorously strip-cutting lush virgin forests, milling logs for lumber and marketing the product in New Orleans.

Kergosien says in addition to lumber, wool and charcoal were transported to and sold in the Crescent City.

She notes the sawmill closed in 1912 when her grandfather died. Her grandmother died seven years later.

Most of the homes and stores of the then thriving community are gone, but 53 years of lumber mill work left the approximate 50-foot high sawdust mountain covering several acres and the smaller wood-dust hill about 15 feet high covering about one-half an acre.

The Bay St. Louis resident recalls how she as a small child and her sisters would stand on top of the large pile to watch the schooners sail up the Bay of St. Louis, Jourdan River and Rotten Bayou to Fenton.

At that time the schooners could easily navigate Rotten Bayou and Bayou LeTerre which is now a shallow creek with just a few deep areas, she says.

Although strip-cutting was an acceptable and practical tree-harvesting method of the day, it contributed to considerable soil erosion which filled in many deep waterways.

Billy Pitts of the construction company says the large Fenton sawdust pile is the biggest he's ever tackled.

The company purchases sawdust piles throughout the Deep South and sells the material to factories, he reports.

Pitts notes International Paper Co. is utilizing the Fenton sawdust to fire its plant boilers in Moss Point and Mobile, Ala.

Pass man listed serious after shotgun shooting

By BRENT MACEY

A Pass Christian man was listed in serious condition in Gulfport Memorial Hospital Saturday after being shot with a .20 gauge shotgun in the face and upper body early Saturday morning.

Terrence Alvarado, 21, of 102 McClung Street was leaving The Reflections Lounge on US-90 with a friend when the shooting occurred outside the establishment approximately 2:42 a.m., Waveland Patrolman John Wilkerson reported.

Cynthia Rainey, 34, of 2227 Magnolia Street in Waveland was arrested at her house shortly after the incident and is charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

Bond was set at $5,000.

A hospital spokesman at Gulfport Memorial stated "numerous pellets" are lodged in Alvarado's face and head. He was expected to be admitted to an intensive care unit Saturday.

The spokesman was uncertain if Alvarado's eyes were injured or if surgery would be required.

According to Wilkerson, Rainey was allegedly waiting outside the lounge for her boyfriend to leave the establishment.

"She was actually shooting at her boyfriend but she missed," Wilkerson alleged.

According to Wilkerson, Alvarado was walking behind Rainey's boyfriend. The two were leaving the lounge together when the shooting occurred.

He estimated the shot was fired some 150 feet away from Alvarado, who was struck with number 7½ bird shot.

Following the shooting Rainey went home and called the Waveland Police," Wilkerson said.

"She said she thought she had shot someone," he stated.

Waveland Patrolman Oscar Thomas, and Hancock County Sheriff's Department Deputies Rocky Murphy and David Murtagh arrested Rainey at her residence.

Wilkerson said Rainey met the officers in front of her house with the shot gun in hand.

Mobile Medic transported Alvarado to Hancock General Hospital. He was later transported to Gulfport.

Earlier this week, Alvarado was arrested after a high speed chase and was facing multiple charges.

DRUG ARREST

Three Bay St. Louis residents were arrested Thursday at approximately 10:30 p.m. and charged with possession of a controlled substance.

Two of the accused, Richard Thomas Peneguy, 20, of 901 Spanish Acres Drive and Crystal Schoonmaker, of 625 Old Spanish Trail, are being held without bond in the Hancock County Jail.

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson stated bond cannot be offered since both Peneguy and Schoonmaker face additional charges of probation violation.

The two pled guilty in the last term of Circuit Court to burglary of The Eatery on North Beach Boulevard in Bay St. Louis. Their sentences were suspended at that time.

Walter Ray Smith, 20, of Route 4, Box 265 Bay St. Louis, was released on a $2,500 bond.

Peterson said drugs known as T's and Blues and some syringes were confiscated from a car in which the three were riding.

According to a report filed by arresting Deputies Russell Watts and Nathan Hoda Jr., the three were spotted in a car parked on the side of Hwy. 603.

A light turned on inside in the car aroused the officer's suspicions as they passed by.

GOODS RECOVERED

Two Bay St. Louis men and a Pass Christian man were arrested Monday in connection with a theft reported Dec. 3.

Harold T. Bounds, 20, of 870 Blue Meadow Road in Bay St. Louis and Steve Finch, 22, of Route 2, Box 627 in Bay St. Louis, are facing charges of grand larceny.

Louis G. Arceneaux, 23, of 178 Fort Henry Street, Pass Christian is charged with receiving stolen property.

All three have been released on $5,000 bonds from the Hancock County Jail and are awaiting a preliminary hearing before Judge John Chevis Jan. 5.

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson alleged that Bounds and Finch stole a 35 horsepower Johnson motor, four gas tanks and two batteries from a boat outside the residence of Bill Shaw on Cain Road in Bay St. Louis.

"They allegedly sold the motor to Arceneaux," Peterson said, and claimed Arceneaux knew the motor was stolen.

All items except one gas tank have been recovered, the sheriff added.

Holiday toy safety campaign launched

Against the backdrop of Washington's colorful Capital Children's Museum, the Consumer Product Safety Commission launched its annual holiday toy safety campaign to provide guidelines for holiday shoppers to purchase toys that will be safe for their loved ones.

The toy safety campaign is being sponsored nationwide jointly by CPSC and the Toy Manufacturers of America, the toy industry trade association.

According to CPSC and TMA there are approximately 150,000 different toys on the market. Making the proper selection of a toy is often difficult for consumers. Although children's products are required to meet mandatory CPSC safety standards, serious accidents can occur if toys are not selected with the right child in mind or used under adult supervision.

Based on hospital emergency room reports monitored by CPSC in 1981, more than 385,000 children under age 15 were hurt while riding their bicycles. Another 29,000 children under 15 were injured through the use of sleds. Accidents involving skates accounted for 97,000 injuries to kids under 15; another 24,000 injuries resulted from using skateboards.

Never hang toys with long strings, cords, loops or ribbons in cribs or playpens where children can become entangled.

Teach children to put their toys safely away on shelves or in other storage areas after playing to prevent trips and falls. Many accidents occur when toys are left out causing someone to fall.

Take care to explain to children how to use their toys properly and how to take care of them.

Keep toys designed for older children out of the hands of little ones. Chemistry sets, hobby items and toys with small parts, particularly games, can be extremely dangerous if used by younger children.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Members of the Pearlington Branch of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormons) recently enjoyed two branch activities.

The first was a spaghetti social which was attended by some 22 members and their guests. The group dined on spaghetti and meatballs; spaghetti and meat sauce, a fresh garden salad, green pea salad, bread, homemade root beer, kool-aid, cakes and apple pie.

Following the feast, those wishing to participate, shared the fun of a guessing game; and everyone spent an enjoyable evening visiting with each other.

Those attending were Alvin and Margaret Parker; Julie Attaway; Jim, Patty, Jimmy, Leanne, and Angela Baldree; Alfred, Betty, Bettina, Deanna, and Alfreda Deaver; William, Paulette, Will and Jared Gilthorpe; Nancy and Jeannie Bell; Thomas Bosley; and John and Lena O'Keefe.

The second event was a dinner, puting for the adults only. The men treated their wives to catfish or oysters with coleslaw, french fries, hush puppies and soft drinkings at Myrl's Catfish House on Blue Meadow Road in Bay St. Louis.

After this delicious treat, one of the ladies in the group shared with the others an assortment of homemade chocolates, with she had recently received.

Those attending and thoroughly enjoying this outing were: William and Paulette Gilthorpe; Alvin and Margaret Parker; and Jim and Patty Baldree.

VISITING SPEAKER

Donald White of Waveland Ward of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormons) was the principal speaker at a recent Pearlington Branch sacrament meeting.

"When we visit," White said, "we are showing love and appreciation for each other." But he pointed out that we don't seem to have the time in our hectic schedules to visit.

He added, "Not too long ago we had to travel by horse and wagon for several hours to visit, and sometimes we even had to spend the night. Today we can jump into the car and be there in a few minutes. So, why don't we have the time?"

White then said that church is a place where we can spend some time together in harmony with the Lord's spirit.

"The church is the same all over the world," he said. "The meetings begin at the same time. Wherever you go you feel welcome. That is the Gospel of Jesus Christ."

White stressed, "We are the backbone of the church. It is up to us to do the work of the Lord. He will not do it for us. He will guide us, but He will not do it for us!"

"Let's always strive to live together as brothers and sisters," he urged, "for we will be condemned for the little things that we fail to do."

White, who has worked a great deal in Scouting in the past and who is now a Scout official in the Waveland Ward, joined the Mormon Church in October of 1960. He and his wife, Hazel, and their six children, moved the Gulf Coast from Denham Springs, La., in 1969.

They now live in BaySide Park.

Besides his Scouting positions, he has served as Sunday School president, Elders' Quorum president, and on several occasions as a counselor of three branch presidents.

Tax exemption sought soy-diesel blend

Disoyl, a blend of 10 percent soybean oil and 90 percent diesel fuel, would reduce U.S. dependence on foreign oil and help increase U.S. soybean prices, according to the American Soybean Association (ASA).

In an effort to promote expanded use of the soy-diesel blend, ASA has launched a legislative campaign aimed at gaining congressional action to exempt disoyl from the four-cent-a-gallon federal fuel tax.

"The soy-diesel blend represents an excellent way to benefit farmers and other consumers," says ASA President B.B. Spratling Jr., a Robs, Alabama, farmer.

Research studies at several universities demonstrate the blend performs well. Congress is currently considering the fuel users tax—which includes a fuel tax exemption for gasoline and soybean farmers would like a similar exemption for the soybean oil-diesel fuel blend.

ASA's analysis shows that the disoyl blend is price competitive with regular diesel fuel if the federal tax is waived. Congressional approval could increase soybean oil consumption as much as 800 million pounds.

According to ASA Senior Economist Bob Acton, this would increase soybean oil prices 10-cents a pound and would increase soybean prices 50-cents a bushel. This, he estimates, would increase U.S. farm income $1.2 billion. "This legislative action is part of an overall ASA campaign to increase soybean oil consumption and return profits to soybean farmers," Spratling says.

"The campaign also includes efforts to increase soybean exports and to expand non-food uses of soybean oil."

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

"I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly."—John 10:10

By Shann Murphy

Well, Christmas is at last upon us. And from my family to yours, I wish you a heartfelt "Merry Christmas!"

Did you ever wonder where our various Christmas traditions came from, like greeting one another with the words "Merry Christmas"?

Our word "merry" generally suggests mirth and jollity. It describes one who is in emotionally high spirits. But centuries ago the word "merry" had other meanings and connotations. "Merry" meant peacefulness and blessedness.

So that the meaning was "A peaceful Christmas to you" or "May Christmas bring the blessings of God to you."

The Christmas wreath also has a special significance. In pre-Christian times, a green laurel wreath or crown designated victory in athletic and military conquests. But in the 16th century, the Lutherans of Germany intertwined fir branches in a circular shape and hung these evergreen wreaths on their doorposts as a symbol of their victory over sin and death through Jesus Christ.

Perhaps the favorite of all Christmas traditions is that of the Christmas tree. Legend has it that on a cold, winter night over 400 years ago that

As he walked he became enthralled with the beauty of the shining stars as they peeked through the branches of the evergreens. Wishing to share this experience with his family he brought home a small evergreen and placed lit candles on its branches so that his family could catch the beauty of the stars shining through the branches of the trees.

And contrary to popular belief, it was not a man by the name of Hallmark who began the tradition of sending Christmas cards.

Christmas greeting cards were introduced in England in the 1840's. They were preceded by the eloquent and artistic greetings which English schoolboys away at boarding school, would send their parents as expressions of love and of their proficiency in writing.

By the 1870's English immigrants had brought the custom to America and a tradition was born.

What about Santa Claus, mistletoe, poinsettias and other dear traditions? Their origins and symbolism will be discussed in next week's "Abundant Life"!

We know folks are tired of being reminded to vote by us, but Tuesday's run-off election should be the last this year for Hancockians.

The run-off is for the very important position of Circuit Clerk of the county. We know there wasn't a big turnout for the special election when six candidates were in the race, but we are in hopes that more electors will vote on Tuesday.

Mark your calendars to vote Tuesday! Polls open at 7 a.m. with closing at 6 p.m.

The Holiday Season is with us and many children will be on the streets possibly not paying too much attention to motor vehicles thinking about what Santa is going to bring them.

It is a time for extreme caution to be practiced by motorists, especially when they see children.

At Christmas many youngsters will be receiving bicycles, and they will be trying them out, so lookout for children on shiny new bikes.

We want everyone to enjoy their new toys, and ask parents to urge their children to observe all traffic regulations.

Parties are now in process everywhere one turns, and some people have a tendency to maybe drink a little too much.

We would like to recommend those celebrating, if they have too much to drink, PLEASE do not drive. Get someone sober to take you home.

Accidents cause injuries, grief and even death to many during the holiday season due to driving and drinking.

We know our police officers would rather drive someone home drunk, then have to investigate an accident and make out all the required reports. This is not to mention the injuries or deaths which may occur.

The Bottom Line

Candid Answers To Your Questions About Advertising and Business Topics.
By S. GALE DENLEY
Associate Professor of Journalism
University of Mississippi

I'm making a New Year's resolution to set up an advertising program and follow it. How Much Trouble Will I Have?

Dear HMTWIH: Not nearly as much as you will have if you don't.

All too often so-called businessmen consider how much it will cost to advertise, but fail to consider how much it will cost them if they don't.

Advertising pays for itself in increased sales.

If you elect not to advertise, you pay the price several times over in decreased sales and lost opportunity.

A wag once noted: "If you don't have anything to advertise in your business, you need to advertise your business for sale."

To set up an ad program you need to go through sales records for the previous year. Calculate increases you feel you need to make and then budget the amount you anticipate spending on advertising by week and items to be promoted.

Try to advertise before you expect peak demand for various items, and then continue to promote sales during the periods of demand.

Establishing an amount for advertising depends on the market, the kind of store you have, and you.

National averages are available for the various types of stores, but like all averages they include the successful and the unsuccessful. So to decide to be average would be setting a rather low mark for yourself.

For instance the average for all stores is reinvestment of some one percent of sales in promotion. So if you spend less than one per cent, you need to seriously go over your promotional efforts.

But, don't feel smug if you actually average one per cent. This figure needs to be further qualified if you are in a business that deals in high mark-up merchandise, or if any of your expenditure is in the form of donations to various groups selling what they call advertising.

Establish a theme or a general slogan for your annual program that reflects your overall goal for the business. Then see that all your ads either state or imply the theme in appearance, presentation and message.

The important thing is to have your plan in calendar form, with sufficient lead time for the various seasonal goods. And then force yourself to follow it throughout the year. Making the plan according to the directions given here will probably give you an insight into your business, you haven't previously had. It could also be beneficial in purchasing.

Lung Association aids Freedom from Smoking

Each year, many Mississippians resolve to quit smoking as a New Year's resolution. Many succeed, but many more do not.

To help improve the odds and to offer support, the Mississippi Lung Association suggests the self-help program, "Freedom from Smoking in Twenty Days," says Dr. Roland B. Robertson Jr. of Jackson, president of the Christmas Seal voluntary health organization.

This program is the culmination of four years of planning, study and research by the American Lung Association and its medical section, the American Thoracic Society.

"Freedom from Smoking" is packaged in two separate books. The first booklet provides a day-by-day plan to help the smoker quit smoking. This manual gives 20 days of specific activities designed and tested to help smokers understand their smoking habit better...so they can learn to stop," says Robertson.

A second booklet, "A Lifetime of Freedom from Smoking," is to help maintain the new nonsmoking lifestyle. Tensions and events that cause backsliding are anticipated, and this manual helps the new nonsmoker cope with and solve these problems while maintaining a "smoke-free" lifestyle.

"Freedom from Smoking" is a highly individualized and very workable way to quit smoking. It is available from the Mississippi Lung Association now and is ideally suited for the person making a New Year's resolution to "kick the cigarette habit."

For more information, contact the Mississippi Lung Association, Post Office Box 1405, Jackson, Miss. 39206 or phone 322-4424.

News from the Governor

Vice President George Bush will be keynote speaker Jan. 19 at a small business conference in Jackson, Governor William Winter announced.

The theme of the conference is "How to Make Money Selling to the Government (U.S. Government, Prime Contractors and the State of Mississippi)."

Its sponsors are the U.S. Small Business Administration, Jackson District and the State of Mississippi, Department of Economic Development, Marketing Division.

Bush will address the two-day conference at the kickoff luncheon scheduled to begin at noon at Coliseum Ramada Inn.

With the exception of first day registration and Bush's address, all sessions will be held in the Mississippi Trade Mart.

A one-price $35 ticket includes two all-day learning seminars and two luncheons. No tickets will be sold to individual functions.

"We feel this conference is very timely. It will provide a good opportunity to match small business interested in selling with state and federal government agencies, prime contractors and large corporations interested in buying," said William T. Hackett Jr., Executive Director of the Department of Economic Development.

"This conference will stimulate business growth and activity by informing small businesses of the numerous sales opportunities available with federal and state governments and their prime contractors," said Mike Shelton of Gulfport, SBA Conference Coordinator.

Special guests expected to attend the conference include James C. Sanders, SBA Administration; Senator John Stennis and Senator Thad Cochran; Congressman Jamie Whitten, First District; Congressman Elect Webb Franklin, Second District; Congressman Sonny Montgomery, Third District; Congressman Wayne Dowdy, Fourth District; Congressman Trent Lott, Fifth District.

Conference co-sponsors are the Mississippi Congressional Delegation, The Mississippi Commission on Budget and Accounting, Mississippi Planning and Development Districts Mississippi Industrial Development Council, Tennessee-Tombigbee Construction Assistance Center, Mississippi Municipal Association, Mississippi Manufacturers Association, Mississippi Economic Council, Mississippi Association of Supervisors, Delta Council, Centre South, Mid-Mississippi Development District and North Mississippi Industrial Development Association.

Registrations are limited. For additional information, contact Bill McGinnis, 601/359-3444, marketing Division, Mississippi Department of Economic Development.

Patrol warns drunk drivers

Col. Donald Butler has warned would-be drunk drivers that state troopers will be out in full force during the holiday season in an effort to reduce traffic fatalities.

"Our studies show that drinking drivers are involved in more than 60 percent of the traffic accident deaths in Mississippi," Butler said.

"Drunk drivers are not killing drunk drivers, but they are also killing drivers and passengers of other cars who do not drink."

Butler said shift schedules are being rearranged so that a maximum number of troopers will be working during peak driving hours. He said highway patrol units will be operating 24 hours per day during both the Christmas and New Year's holiday weekends.

The contingent of state troopers will be augmented by 37 newly graduated and commissioned officers from the Highway Patrol Cadet School.

"It is not our purpose or desire to dampen holiday spirits, but our troopers will meet their obligation to make the highways as safe as possible for all motorists over the holidays," Butler said.

Butler, chief of the Highway Patrol, said no troopers will be allowed time off during either the Christmas or New Year's holiday weekends. He said all leaves and days off for troopers have been canceled during both periods.

The Christmas holiday season begins at 6 p.m., Dec. 23 and runs through midnight Sunday, Dec. 24. The New Year's weekend begins at 6 p.m., Dec. 30 and ends at midnight Sunday, Jan. 1.

A total of 15 people were killed during the combined Christmas and New Year's weekends one year ago. A total of 81 died in traffic accidents during the 1980-81 combined holidays.

To reduce the death toll, state troopers have been ordered to be especially watchful for violators of drunk driving laws and for speeding motorists.

"Drinking drivers must learn that their chances of being involved in a fatal accident increase sharply after the first drink and skyrocket with each additional drink," Butler warned.

"The Highway Patrol will do its best to prevent drunk drivers from risking their lives and the lives of other people during the holiday season," he promised.

T'WAS THE WEEK BEFORE CHRISTMAS

T'was the week before Christmas, and my, all the stress.—I had just cut my hair and it was a mess! I needed a perm, and was gonna do it myself. Then I cut my little finger; I broke a glass on the shelf. I was getting things ready for a big rummage sale, Then decided to decorate the tree, when from the ladder I fell. And the hot water heater, it 'conked out' on me, Had to call a plumber, and my, what a fee! I was in much disarray with more shopping to do, So I just bowed my head, asked, "Dear Lord, see me through." And I'll get it all done one way or another, Then tomorrow I'll visit my big, handsome brother. And his cute little wife will give me a kiss, Then I'll know that there is nothin' amiss. I'll give my dear mama a hug and she'll smile. Then I'll know that all is worthwhile. Again she will tell me of the Christmas beginning, And with this in mind, I'll always be winning. Yes, she will tell me the story of that first Christmas morn, When the Christ-child came and in a stable was born. She will tell me the reasons for our dear Savior's birth, And how He brought joy and peace here on earth. Then as I'll be leaving she will hug me real tight, And say, "Merry Christmas my baby, now you have a good night."

Wildlife management area closed due to flooding

Another state wildlife area has been closed to hunting due to high water.

The Ship Island Wildlife Management Area in Issaquena County has been closed by the Department of Wildlife Conservation to all hunting, except waterfowl hunting, due to the rising waters of the Mississippi River.

The agency's five-member commission, acting on recommendations from field biologists and enforcement personnel, closed the 3,642-acre area to hunting until the overflow waters of the Mississippi River recede to the point that native wildlife can return to their natural habitat.

Located several miles south of Mayersville and just west of the main levee of the Mississippi River, the wildlife area has become inundated recently due to rapidly rising water.

According to an enforcement spokesman in the Department's Jackson office, it is illegal for anyone to hunt, trap, take, frighten, or kill game or fur-bearing animals forced out of their natural habitat by high waters.

Hancock Bank reports $50,000,000 growth

A special meeting of Hancock Bank stockholders was called Tuesday to consider an amendment to the charter of incorporation in order to increase the authorized capital stock and the board's recommendation of a 20 percent stock dividend, payable to all shareholders of record, Dec. 6, 1982.

The resolution which was presented at the 4:30 p.m. meeting in the bank's Gulfport headquarters, and approved by stockholders, authorizes an increase in the capital stock from $3,310,000, constituting 331,000 shares with a par value of $10, to $4,000,000 or 400,000 shares with a par value of $10 each.

Leo Seal Jr., Hancock Bank president, also reported that the board of directors declared a regular 40-cent per share dividend, plus an extra $1 dividend to stockholders of record, Dec. 6, 1982, payable Dec. 15, 1982. He said this is a total of $2.60 per share paid in dividends during 1982.

In the letter to stockholders reporting the results of the meeting, Donald E. Sutter, chairman of the board, and Seal stated that ever since Hurricane Camille the bank and the area it serves has enjoyed record growth.

As deposits have risen, registering a growth of $50,000,000 during 1982, the letter continued, "we have been able to increase your cash dividends while, at the same time, increasing your equity as a stockholder and also pay several stock dividends."

Hancock Cable tells expansion plans

Cable television subscribers on the north end of Waveland Avenue, south of US-90, may experience short spelled "outages" this week, according to N.R. (Jake) Jacob, manager of Hancock Cable.

Jacob said the signal losses will be caused by line crews shortening trunk amplifiers, distances and extending lines in that general vicinity.

"We are extending our trunk lines through the top end of Waveland Avenue in preparation for crossing the highway at a location adjacent to the old weigh scales.

Present growth patterns indicate the continuation of major construction in this general area of Waveland Avenue, moving north across US-90 and spreading west," Jacob said.

The cable system manager said three contracted crews are working on the project in addition to Hancock Cable personnel, with construction also underway in several locations in Bay St. Louis and Waveland.

Albert L. Lamar, president, Hancock Cable, has given the green light to an ongoing building expansion program for the balance of this year and what looks like most of next.

He said the new year will see several changes in the cable channel array with an expanded basic service and additional pay programs being offered.

A new Seube Street trunk is to serve not only those streets such as Gladstone, Victoria, Bismarck, Seventh, Eighth, and Nineteenth, but also, with other tie-ins, those areas between Nicholson and Bouslog that presently lack service.

Other zones presently slated for 1983 construction include Longfellow, and surrounds, US-90 throughout its length inside municipal limits, Blue Meadow (north), Idlewood Subdivision, Old Spanish Trail from St. Joseph to US-90, and a few other isolated pockets.

Too, trunk lines are being engineered to stub out in directions of future growth, thus setting patterns of expansion over the next several years.

"We are finishing the 1982 in an extremely active mode with planning, building, and projections, being operated in high gear."

"We have concluded construction on Court Street in Bay St. Louis - including the commercial section of the Beach, and will soon complete the bottom end of Main Street now a new pole line has been installed.

"Some 50 people will receive signal this week in Bayside Subdivision and we will try to have as many of them as possible connected before Christmas.

"To end our contractor, R.C. Construction, Inc. of Waveland, has engaged extra personnel in addition to his construction crews," Jacob added.

Nature to explore how animals learn

"A Question of Learning," the fourth program in the six-part miniseries, "The Discovery of Animal Behavior," seen Sunday nights over PBS as part of NATURE, focuses on discoveries of how animals learn. The Russian doctor, Ivan Pavlov, was one of the first to analyze the nature of learning in animals.

The telecast recreates the experiments which led to Pavlov's discovery of the "conditioned reflex" in animals and may be seen on METV, ch. 19, or Hancock Cable, ch. 13 at 8 p.m. Sunday. The program also looks at experiments with "Klugie Hans" (Clever Hans), a horse in 19th-century Austria whose seeming ability to do simple arithmetic gave him a reputation as an equine genius.

He was toured throughout the European continent, displaying his abilities to "read" and to "add."

An extensive investigation of the case by Oskar Pfungst proved that the horse was not "gifted" but rather was simply reacting to inadvertent physical gestures from his master.

Also in the telecast are recreations of some of Edward Lee Thorndike's experiments with chicks trying to find their way out of a complicated maze, and John Watson's studies of the nesting habits of sooty terns in the Dry Tortugas Islands off the Florida coast, which showed that the birds used physical landmarks to locate their nests.

The program, in addition, features reenactments of B.F. Skinner's experiments at Harvard in the 1930s, exploring the ways animal behavior could be altered, and recreates the experiments of William Thorpe, who discovered that chaffinches the world over sang the same song — but with regional accents.

In Program Four, Ivan Pavlov is portrayed by Boris Isaroff; Wilhem von Osten by Frank Duncan; Prof. Stumpf by John Abineri; Oskar Pfungst by Steve Ubels; Edward Lee Thorndike by Nicholas Owen; John Watson by Jack Garrett; William Thorpe by Peter Whitaker; and Harry Harlow by Jose Polansky Jr.

The Discovery of Animal Behavior is a co-production of the Natural History Unit of the BBC, R.M. Productions and WNET, New York.

The series was produced by John Sparks.

Michael Salisbury produced Program Four. Dr. Donald Johanson, noted paleoanthropologist and director of the Institute of Human Origins in Berkeley, California, is the on-camera host.

Presented by WNET as part of Nature, The Discovery of Animal Behavior is made possible with funding from public television stations. David Heeley is the producer of the series and George Page is the executive producer.

Thomas takes Library Friends 'Inside China'

By JOE PILET
"Inside China," a slide program narrated by Henry Thomas and shown recently to members and guests of Friends of the Library, was warmly received by the group.

Thomas, manager of Coast Electric Power Association in Bay St. Louis, recently returned from an investigative tour of mainland China and recorded his extraordinary findings on a total of 600 slides.

Some 118 of these were used in the library presentation depicting views of the countryside, street scenes, typical homes, farms, and life style of the people of China with particular emphasis on rural areas.

More than 80 percent of China's teeming population live in rural areas where they raise rice and cabbage as main food crops, Thomas said.

Modern machinery and appliances are unknown, roads poor, and bicycles the popular mode of transportation.

The buffalo is used in tilling the soil.

"In China, every one works," Thomas observed and added: "In China there is no unemployment problem. There is no need for improved roads since no one is allowed to own an automobile. The main concern of the Chinaman is to keep population growth stable and to provide sufficient foodstuff for the densely populated country."

The people of China are cheerful, courteous, friendly and honest," Thomas commented and said during his stay in various hotels he was never given a room key and nothing was missing from his luggage.

Several slides depicted the interior of the more modern government owned dwellings with built-in cement beds covered with incredibly thin mattresses.

The kitchen area featured wok cooking with corn stubble as fuel. Very little meat is eaten however. One slide, a roadside scene, showed a goat herder driving his flock into a village for slaughter and distribution.

"Education in China is compulsory through the fourth grade," Thomas said, adding that English is taught as a second language.

Chinese students are very serious with long hours of lesson preparation. The populace is kept informed through news bulletins placed prominently in entrances to work areas.

The avenue of sculptured animals was impressive and beautiful, Thomas said, however during his stay the only animals he saw were in the zoos!

Entertainment in the urban areas was said to be lavish, the public buildings well designed and appointed with exquisite furnishings, murals, paintings and other works of art.

A slide showing ballet dancers in beautiful costumes, another of a party in progress gave viewers a glimpse of the social life of China.

Thomas showed pictures of two churches, Greek and Protestant, the only two he saw during his stay.

Those attending church, he observed, were mostly elderly women.

Of the fine arts Thomas was favorably impressed with the meticulous workmanship in hand carved jade, painstakingly perfect stichery, and paintings showing mastery of brush strokes and the keen perception of the artists.

He was lavish in his praise and appreciation of porcelain objects of art. While showing a factory in process of manufacturing luxurious bedding he remarked: "I was told this shipment was for Rich's Department Store in Atlanta, Georgia."

China is a country of contrasts with Mount Everest towering some 29,028 feet and Turfan Depression 505 feet below sea level; a country with a rural population of 80 percent where a telephone is a rarity, electricity virtually unknown, yet with eleven of the world's largest cities, of which Peking is the capital.

China is the world's oldest living civilization with a written history that goes back 3,500 years; a north-south distance of 2,700 miles with climate ranging from humid subtropical to highlands and deserts, where few people can afford meat yet raise more livestock than any other nation!

Cook up a quiche (you say it "keeh") at Christmastime for a quick luncheon or supper dish. When Yuletide shopping has kept you busy...or for festive entertaining, Cook it large or cook it small, in tart pans or muffin cups for the hors d'oeuvre tray...or cook it in an oblong baking pan and cut it into small squares for the before-dinner-bit-of-conversation-scene...it's delicious so many ways.

The traditional French Quiche Lorraine, a savory custard pie with Gruyere cheese and bacon, has long been a favorite wintertime hors d'oeuvre or supper dish. For those unfamiliar with the Quiche Lorraine, here's the basic recipe, for

Quiche Lorraine
1 (10 inch) baked pie shell
4 strips bacon
2 cups grated Gruyere cheese (1/4 lb.)

4 eggs
2 cups heavy cream of half-and-half

Dash (1/8 tsp.) pepper

Bake the pie shell, your own or otherwise, and set aside.

Cook bacon till crisp, drain, and crumble into small pieces.

Sprinkle evenly over the bottom of the pie shell, then sprinkle the cheese over the bacon.

Beat the eggs, with the cream and pepper, blending well. Pour over the bacon and cheese in the shell. Bake in a preheated 450° oven for 15 minutes. Then reduce the heat to 350° and continue baking for 20 or so minutes more, just until the custard is a lovely golden, and a knife comes out clean from the center.

But let's vary it a bit and dress it up for Christmas, as we do just about everything else. How about an avocado quiche with ham and eggs for the Christmas Tree, and green? Here's

Merry Christmas Quiche
Pie shell
1 medium avocado, diced (about a cup or a bit more)

4 eggs
2 cups heavy cream

2 Tbsp. lemon juice

Dashes of pepper, hot pepper sauce, salt

Spoon the avocado into the bottom of the pie shell.

Beat the eggs and cream, stir in the other ingredients, pour over the avocado.

Bake in preheated 450° oven 15 minutes, reduce heat to 350° and continue baking for 15 or 20 minutes. Let stand for several minutes to set and
